

Poland Reaffirms Ties with Russia

Paper Says New Freedom No Swing to West

Editorial Says U. S. Has No Right to Interfere

WARSAW (U.P.)—The official Communist Party newspaper Trybuna Ludu reaffirmed Poland's close ties to Russia today and said it would be "naive" to think the nation's "new freedom" would swing its policies toward the West.

The newspaper told President Eisenhower the new freedom did not give the United States the right to interfere in Poland's internal affairs and warned West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer not to "meddle in the development of our freedom."

The editorial was printed only hours after Poland's defiance of the Kremlin in purging Defense Minister Konstantin Rokossovsky from the all-powerful Communist Politburo touched off a nationwide wave of celebrations.

The same newspaper Sunday told Russia that anti-Soviet elements "were and still are now" in Poland.

"President Eisenhower made a declaration of which the sense is that he would 'help in the fight which the Poles are making,'" Trybuna Ludu said today.

"We understand very well the American situation before the elections but we must emphasize that Poles do not vote in the American election and therefore Poles do not need to be included in the American electoral campaign."

"We must also say that the post of the chief executive of a great state does not give to President Eisenhower the right to interfere in the internal affairs of smaller countries . . ."

It was the first mention in this country of Mr. Eisenhower's remarks in Denver, Colo., Saturday that "all friends of the Polish people recognize and sympathize with their traditional yearning for liberty and independence."

Trybuna Ludu said, "if anyone naive thinks that the changes in Poland are a sign of a new orientation in our foreign policy, then he is making a great mistake. The basis of our policies was and is friendship with the Soviet Union."

A Major Demotion
However, most observers said the events of Sunday—in which the one-time Soviet army hero Rokossovsky was ousted from the Polit-

Stratton Blasts Senate Probers as 'Hillbillies' from Arkansas, Alabama

By United Press

Gov. William G. Stratton Sunday described the U. S. Senate Banking Committee's investigation of the Hodge scandal as a case of "hillbillies from Arkansas and Alabama trying to tell the people of Illinois how to run their business."

The committee investigation was conducted by Sens. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) and John Sparkman (D-Ala.).

Stratton hit at the committee investigation while charging that the Democratic campaign was the "filthiest and dirtiest" he has seen in making 15 downstate campaigns for office.

The governor also indicated he was "worried about" the GOP campaign "in the good Republican counties."

He singled out Sangamon County (Springfield) where there are many state employees and said there would be "some red faces" after November if the Republicans did not carry the county.

Stratton said some Republicans in Sangamon County have been standing around "wondering if you can carry the county."

He told them to "get busy" and "go tell the people about the record of progress."

Stratton made three appearances at Springfield Sunday, including one before GOP county chairmen where he ripped into the Democratic campaign and the laxity of some Republican workers.

Stengel Hits Dirksen

On the Democratic side, meanwhile, gubernatorial candidate Richard B. Austin told a group of highway contractors at Springfield there would be no "shaving" of bids if he is elected.

Austin told the contractors he understood "justifiable complaints" that highway rules pertaining to financial requirements of contractors had not been adhered to in the Stratton administration.

He said "I have also received reports that there seems to be several rules which superintendents in various highway districts have been either too strict or too lax in interpreting."

Democrat Richard Stengel, campaigning for the U. S. Senate, whistle-stopped by train from Chicago to Waukegan Sunday, describing U. S. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen as the "champion anti-progress die-hard" whose record is a "blueprint" on how to undermine the public, defeat progress and serve the selfish.

Young Mother Kidnaps Child from Grandparents in Pulaski County

PULASKI, Ill. (U.P.)—Police searched today for a young mother charged with kidnapping her 15-month-old son from his grandparents.

Pulaski County Sheriff Robert Aldrich said 15-month-old Jerry Lee Calvin was snatched from the arms of his grandmother, Mrs. Lawrence Calvin, as she and her husband left church Sunday.

Authorities said a man with Mrs.

Barbara Calvin, the baby's mother, grabbed the child. They escaped with the baby in a car.

Aldrich said the grandparents were awarded custody of the child by Alexander County Court a week ago. He said the baby's mother has been living in Cairo, Ill., St. Louis and Texas since the death of her husband in an auto accident several months ago.

State police joined the search and the FBI was notified.

The unidentified man accompanying the baby's mother was described as about 25 years old, 6 feet tall and weighing about 175 pounds. The baby's mother is about 18 years old, about 5-feet-5 and weighs about 130.

Aldrich said the man also would be charged with kidnapping when his identity was learned.

He urged anybody who has any information on the destruction of mail boxes to report the information to him.

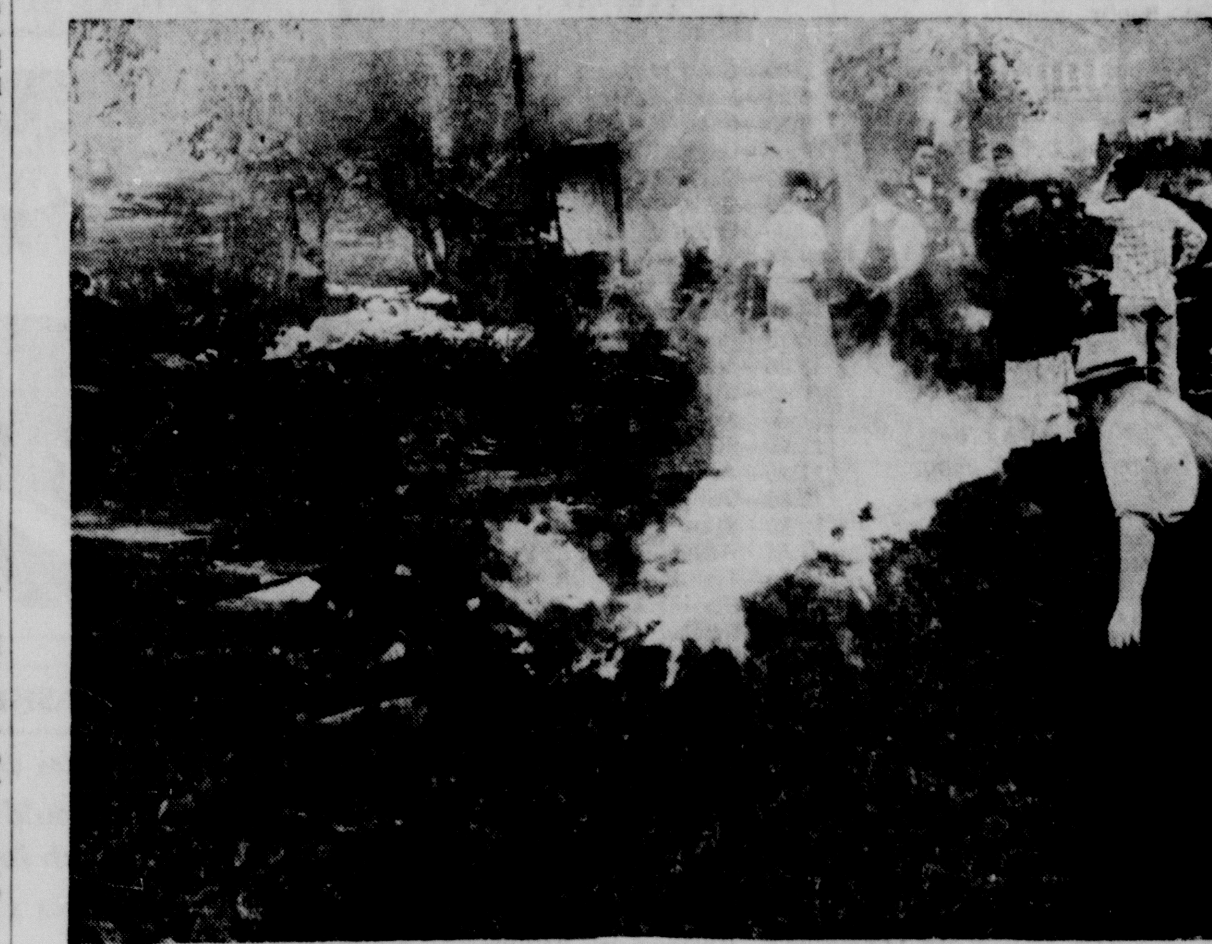

Mr. Hetherington said that many of the boxes had been torn away from metal posts.

EIGHT KILLED IN EXPLOSION—Several persons examine the ruins of two of five homes which were destroyed when a bottled gas plant exploded in Herrin, Illinois. Eight persons were killed and 25 were injured, twelve in critical condition. Authorities said the explosion was caused by propane gas leaking from a tank truck which was ignited by an open flame in one of the five houses. The gas plant was also destroyed. (NEA Telephoto)

Auto Hits Stalled Truck; Two Hurt

Two Harrisburg youths suffered lacerations late Saturday when their auto crashed into the rear of a stalled coal truck at the Feazel street jog at the southwest corner of Taylor Field.

Treated at Lightner hospital were Donald G. Howton, 19, of 508 West Raymond avenue, and his companion, Charles Turner, 15.

City Policeman Pat Atkinson said the George Schalasky truck, loaded with coal, was parked on the street with one of the front wheels jacked up when the car hit the rear about 5:45 p. m. The auto was damaged extensively.

Rescue Mother Of Three from Suicide Attempt

A 27-year-old mother of three children, who said she was "at the end of the rope," was rescued from a suicide attempt Saturday by officers who revived her with the respirator from the Harrisburg department of public safety.

When one of her three small children told two men who were inquiring Saturday afternoon about somebody in the neighborhood that "mummy's dead," that her head was in the stove, the two rushed in to find the woman wrapped in a quilt, her head in the oven of a gas range and the gas on.

The two pulled her away and secured officers, who took the respirator to the scene and revived her.

Chief of Police Ross Lane said the woman told him and other officers that she tried to end her life because she owed bills she could not pay, that rent had been due since March, that her lights had been turned off and there wasn't a bite to eat in the house. She said her husband was away and not being sent her money.

City policemen took up a sizeable collection from uptown individuals and took it to her and made arrangements for her to get relief orders starting today, Lane stated.

Later in the afternoon a friend from East Alton, knowing of her plight, wired her $10.

Herrin JP is Killed by Auto

HERRIN, Ill. (U.P.)—Joe Gualdone, 59, local political figure and justice of the peace, was killed Sunday night when he walked into the path of a car.

The driver, Judy Lualdi, 16, was not held. Police said Gualdone apparently had been talking to someone in a car across the street and apparently was not watching where he was going.

Omaha Girl, 7, is Killed When Auto Overturns on Gravel Road

Was In Car Driven By Her Mother, Mrs. Margaret Mills

Mary Katherine, seven-year-old daughter of Mrs. Margaret Mills of Omaha, was killed instantly Saturday afternoon when the auto her mother was driving overturned on a gravel road north-west of Ridgway.

Mrs. Mills, 30, the widow of Boniface Mills who was killed last May in an automobile accident at Rockport, Ill., was driving the car on a gravel road leading west from State Route 1 a short distance north of Ridgway when the accident occurred. Three other children were with her.

State Policemen Michael Taggart and Guthrie Alexander, who investigated the crash, said Mrs. Mills lost control of the auto in loose gravel. The car went off the road and overturned twice.

Apparently a door flew open and then slammed shut during the accident, the door crushing the head of the seven-year-old child, Officer Taggart stated.

Mrs. Mills and her youngest child, Elizabeth, 2, sustained minor injuries. Leon, 8, and Johnny, 4, were not injured.

The family had been to Eldorado but were travelling back west on the gravel road, known as the Elba road, when the accident occurred only a quarter of a mile from Route 1 about 3:30 p. m.

The body was taken to the Cox funeral home at Ridgway, where Coroner Charles Cox announced that the inquest into the death and also the inquest into the death of Buford Howard Connell, Sharon, Tenn., truck driver who was killed when his truck dropped through Saline river bridge at Equality last week, will be held at 7 p. m. Wednesday.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 9 a. m. at St. Joseph's Catholic church in Ridgway with the pastor, Rev. John Venegoni, officiating. Burial will be in the St. Joseph cemetery.

The Rosary will be said at St. Joseph's at 7:30 p. m. today.

Local Volunteer Workers Attend District Cancer Society Meeting Held at Herrin

Confidence in past accomplishments and strong hope that the coming year will bring triumph over cancer keyed the meeting of the American Cancer Society, Illinois Division representatives from the Sixth District, when they met in Herrin to make plans to intensify their year-round program.

Mrs. John C. Humm, chairman of Saline county chapter, ACS, stated the meeting was held on Thursday, October 18, at the Herrin Elk's club and was attended by approximately 175 volunteer workers.

These volunteers came from Alexander, Clinton, Edwards, Franklin, Gallatin, Hamilton, Jackson, Jefferson, Johnson, Marion, Massac, Monroe, Perry, Pope, Randolph, Saline, Union, Wabash, Wayne, Washington, White and Williamson counties.

Mrs. T. C. Search of Chester, senior lay director of the Sixth district, presided.

"The purpose of our one day meeting," Mrs. Search explained, "is to evaluate the effectiveness of our present program and plan ways of reinforcing our fight against cancer in the coming year."

Opening at 9 a. m. with registration and a coffee hour, the conference featured a workshop on service, "How Would You Handle This One?"

The Society's directors of public education and publicity in Illinois teamed up in a combined workshop which furnished another part of the morning program. The topic was "It All Ties In."

From 11 a. m. to noon, Dr. John A. Rogers, executive director of the Illinois Division, met with the delegate members from the chapters comprising the Sixth District.

The delegates nominated two district directors to be supported for election to the board of directors of the Society's Illinois Division. Election of members is slated for the Division's annual meeting in Chicago on Nov. 8 and 9.

Concluding the morning meeting was a campaign session for all volunteers, "The One Night Crusade," presented by the Society's campaign director of Illinois.

Featured speaker of the day was Dr. Harry Southwick, clinical assistant professor of surgery at the University of Illinois College of Medicine. Dr. Southwick spoke on a subject of great interest to all volunteers, "Advances in Cancer Therapy."

Those attending from Saline county were Mrs. J. W. Gaskins, education chairman, Mrs. Louis Gaskins, service chairman, Mrs. Bud Fink, representing the VFW Auxiliary which has been making dressings for the society, and Mrs. Morris Skaggs, secretary-treasurer of the chapter and lay-delegate.

Tells Premier He Interferes In U. S. Affairs

Democrats Charge Hasty Action By the President

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—President Eisenhower's angry rejection of Russia's latest plea to halt H-bomb tests added new fuel today to an already heated campaign debate over the super-weapon.

Democrats, led by Adlai E. Stevenson, charged that the White House acted too hastily and without "sober consideration" in dismissing Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin's renewed appeal that the two nations ban future H-bomb tests.

Stevenson himself has called for such a ban and has made Mr. Eisenhower's opposition to it a major issue in the presidential campaign.

The President Sunday bluntly and angrily accused Bulganin of "interference" in U. S. domestic affairs and of seeming "to impugn my own sincerity."

Uses Sharp Words

He did so in answering Bulganin's letter of last Friday which, in effect, endorsed Stevenson's position. Bulganin had noted in his letter that "certain prominent figures in the United States" were also calling for a halt to H-bomb tests.

Mr. Eisenhower, in unusually sharp words aimed at the head of another state, told Bulganin: "The sending of your note in the midst of a national election campaign . . . expressing your support of the opinions of 'certain prominent public figures in the United States,' constitutes an interference by a foreign nation in our internal affairs."

The President said that if similar "interference" were indulged in by an ambassador, it "would lead to his being declared persona non grata (not acceptable) in accordance with long-established custom."

Hts Attack On Dulles

He also told Bulganin that a statement in the Soviet premier's letter about Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was "not only unwarranted, but is personally offensive to me." Bulganin had accused Dulles of "obvious distortion" of Russian policy.

The President also took Bulganin to task for releasing the Russian letter in Moscow without first notifying the United States and before it could be translated and delivered to him. He said this "departs from accepted international practice in a number of respects."

After these sharp words, Mr. Eisenhower then said he was not instructing the State Department to reject Bulganin's letter as sometimes is done in such instances. "This is not because I am tolerant of these departures from accepted international practice but because I still entertain the hope that direct communications between us may serve the cause of peace," the President said.

Slight Rainfall Here

Harrisburg week-end rainfall measured a measly four-hundredths of an inch—barely enough to gauge—and the threat of grass and forest fires continues.

"It probably gave one day of relief," a Forest Service spokesman said today. "It can rain in the morning and wind can dry out things to the extent that things can burn in the afternoon."

Two Illinois State Policemen Are Wounded

LINCOLN, Ill. (AP) — Two Illinois state policemen were wounded early today — one critically — when they prepared to question occupants of an auto that ran a stop sign at a nearby intersection.

Sought were two Negroes who fled from the car on foot after the shooting. Two other men, however, were taken into custody after being held by the wounded officers.

Wounded were Robert Gofightly, 28, and Glen Nichols, 35.

Nichols was shot three times in the stomach and arm while Gofightly suffered a leg wound.

Taken into custody were William Wilfoth and Arvie Jopp, both of Joliet, Ill.

Authorities said the state troopers spotted an auto running a stop sign on U. S. 66 which bypasses Lincoln. About three-quarters of a mile from the intersection, the auto pulled into a restaurant driveway.

The two policemen pulled into the driveway and approached the sides of the car. They ordered its occupants to step outside.

A service station attendant, who witnessed the shooting, said three men stepped out of the auto but the fourth man came out with a gun and began shooting. The witness said the gunman then wheeled around and began running, followed by one companion.

More Campaign Trips Planned By Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, just back from a five-day West Coast swing, is planning other campaign trips, the White House said today.

But White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty cautioned reporters against use of the term "major campaign swing" to describe the trips now under study.

Hagerty said nothing comparable in scope to the West Coast trip is planned. Mr. Eisenhower returned from that swing Sunday night more confident than ever of reelection, White House sources said.

Hagerty today formally announced plans for a televised appearance by the President Tuesday which already had been unofficially disclosed.

In this appearance, pictured by Hagerty as "something new," the President will be interviewed from 1 to 1:30 p. m. CST by a panel of women selected by the Republican National Committee.

Says It's Something New

The program will be telecast nationally by the Columbia Broadcasting System. Hagerty said he believes it was a political innovation to purchase campaign time in mid-afternoon. But he said the program was aimed at women and spotted at a time when women are likely to be at home and to have their TV sets turned on.

The only other scheduled appearances by the President have been set for Tuesday night at a union meeting in the Sheraton-Park Hotel here and at Madison Square Garden in New York Thursday night.

Lawrenceville Businessman is Fatally Shot

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ill. (AP) —

A 60-year-old businessman was found shot to death Sunday in front of the apartment of a 38-year-old dental technician who had also been shot.

Authorities said they discovered the body of Walter Erbacher after Beatrice Vandemere rushed into a neighbor's home screaming that she had been shot. They said a foreign model automatic pistol was found laying on the sidewalk near Erbacher's body.

The neighbor summoned police after taking Miss Vandemere to a hospital, authorities said. They said she had been shot in the chest but was not in serious condition.

Erbacher, operator of a cleaning shop and laundry, also had been shot through the chest. An inquest was postponed indefinitely to allow Miss Vandemere to recover enough to testify.

Uphold Death Conviction of Gilbert Graham

DENVER (AP) — The Colorado Supreme Court today upheld the conviction of airliner dynamiter John Gilbert Graham and ordered the 24-year-old saboteur executed in the state's gas chamber during the week ending Jan. 12, 1957, for a bomb plot that killed 44 persons.

In rejecting the appeal filed by Graham's two court-appointed attorneys without his consent, the court said "Nowhere in the reports of criminal courts have we found a counterpart to this case, and we doubt if anything approaching it can be found in fiction."

Graham, convicted of first degree murder and sentenced to die for the murder of his mother in the dynamite bombing of a United Air Lines plane which carried 43 other persons to their death last Nov. 1, had written a letter to the court asking that it reject the appeal.

Eisenhower in Close Touch with Polish Situation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is keeping in "closest touch" with developments in Poland, the White House said today.

The President conferred with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles by telephone. White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said, "They are keeping in closest touch with the developing situation."

This country will face a major decision on whether to give economic help to the new Polish regime on the pattern of aid to Communist Yugoslavia.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said he is "skeptical" about reports of Polish defiance of Moscow.

Metropolis Man Dies in Plane Crash

MARICOPA, Calif. (AP) — Two men, one from Metropolis, Ill., were killed Sunday when their light plane crashed near here.

Authorities said the plane apparently ran out of gas and crashed during an attempted glide to an airstrip about five miles away.

The men were identified as Dale W. Lowe, 19, Metropolis, and James Robbed, 21, Harbor City, Calif.

They were en route from Los Angeles to San Francisco. It was not determined who was piloting the plane.

Baby Daughter For Eddie Fishers

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Debbie Reynolds was "doing just fine" in St. Joseph's Hospital in nearby Burbank today after giving birth to a 6-pound 12-ounce daughter two weeks early.

Miss Reynolds' husband, singer Eddie Fisher, and her physician, Dr. Charles Levy, rushed the actress to the hospital from Palm Springs Sunday after she complained of pains.

The baby, still unnamed, was born shortly before noon. The Fishers were married Sept. 26, 1955, in Grossinger, N. Y.

Four Persons Still Critical In Herrin Blast

HERRIN, Ill. (AP) — Four persons remained in critical condition today from burns they suffered in Thursday's propane gas tank explosion which already has claimed eight lives.

Mrs. Imogene Jarvis, 29, and her two daughters — Sharon, 10, and Susan, 8 — and Mrs. Gladys McGee were said to be in critical condition.

Only Randy Williams, 7 months, was reported out of danger.

Hundreds of persons attended two funeral services held Sunday for victims of the blasts and fire.

Rites were held first for Fred Kerley, 62; his wife, Elizabeth, 63; their son, Carl, 20; their daughter, Mrs. Violet Williams, 33; her husband, Oscar, 38, and their son, Fred, 3. The family was given a mass burial in nearby Marion.

Only survivor of the family is little Randy Williams.

The second service was for two children — Charlotte Jarvis, 10, and her half brother, Robert Lee Keller, 5. Both were the children of Mrs. Jarvis.

Assistant State Fire Marshal Roy Richardson was expected to report Tuesday or Wednesday on his investigation of the explosion.

Dies Suddenly On Fishing Trip

CAVE-IN-ROCK, Ill. (AP) — A 67-year-old Danville man died Sunday of a heart attack while on a fishing trip here.

Authorities said Clarence Bilkington was discovered dead in the front seat of his truck by his friend, Eric Magnusen, also of Danville, who had been sleeping in the back of the truck.

buro — indicated a sharp swing away from Soviet influence in Poland's internal politics.

Though Rokossovsky retained his job as defense minister, his ousting from the Politburo — the Communist inner circle that runs Poland — was generally conceded to be a major demotion of the lead ing Stalinist.

The Polish-born marshal was twice a hero of the Soviet Union — the hero of Stalingrad, the defender of Moscow. He was the symbol of Stalinism that made Poles regard them as an occupied country. His ouster made them feel they were Poles again after years of being "almost Russian."

Rokossovsky was ousted by 52-year-old Wladyslaw Gomulka in an historic victory regarded by the Poles as almost complete. But observers here said Gomulka's new leadership would not make too much capital of Rokossovsky's demotion now for fear of Russian retaliation.

Students Must Apply for Draft Tests by Oct. 30

Amos J. Doom, chairman of Saline County Local Board No. 193 at Harrisburg, today reminded students that application blanks for the Nov. 15, Selective Service College Qualification Test must be postmarked not later than midnight Tuesday, Oct. 30.

He urged students whose academic year ends in January to take the November 15 test so they will have a test score on file at their local boards before the end of their academic year, at which time their boards reopen and reconsider their cases to determine whether they should be again deferred as students.

A student may obtain an application from any selective service local board. "It is not necessary to obtain the application from the student's own local board," Mr. Doom said.

Students will mail applications for the Nov. 15 test to Science Research Associates, Chicago, Ill., in preaddressed envelopes which will be given to registrants by local boards. Bulletins of Information concerning the test are also available at the local boards.

To be eligible to apply for the Selective Service Test the student must: (1) intend to request deferment as a student; (2) be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction in college; and (3) must not previously have taken the qualification test.

The present criteria for deferment as an undergraduate student are either a satisfactory score (70) on the qualification test or specified rank among the male members of the class (upper half of freshman class, upper two thirds of sophomore class, or upper three fourths of junior class).

Students accepted for admission to a graduate school after January 1, 1955, satisfy the criteria if they ranked among the upper one quarter of the male members of their senior class or made a score of 80 or better on the test. Student deferments are granted at the discretion of the boards, using the criteria as guides.

A student deferment is not an exemption, Mr. Doom explained, and in no way cancels a registrant's military obligation. As a matter of fact, a deferment automatically extends his age of liability to 35.

Sooners Face Still Bloody Notre Dame This Week; Spartans to Play Illinois

By United Press

Another tough weekend lay ahead today for most of college football's top-ranked teams—some of whom already are quaking in their cleats after the rude treatment handed Ohio State, Texas Christian and Mississippi.

Top-ranked Oklahoma and second-ranked Michigan State, who escaped the season's first "lost weekend" with their winning records intact, look safe for another week. The Sooners face Notre Dame, still bloody from its 47-14 defeat at the hands of Michigan State, while the Spartans resume their Big Ten conference schedule against Illinois.

Now look at the tough hurdles facing other highly-rated teams this week:

Third-ranked Georgia Tech runs into a Tulane team that earned its spurs last Saturday by dumping eighth-ranked Mississippi, 10-3; fourth-ranked Ohio State, nursing a 7-6 upset by Penn State, must face always dangerous Wisconsin; while fifth-ranked Texas Christian will attempt to rebound from its 7-6 defeat by Texas A&M against Miami.

And the "toughies" don't end there.

Lion Upset Most Important

Mississippi has an important inter-sectional date with Arkansas, ninth-ranked Southern California must entertain Stanford and 10th-ranked Baylor, idle last weekend, bumps into Texas A&M.

Of the three major upsets recorded last weekend, Penn State's victory over Ohio State stood out as the most important. The Nittany Lions, providing added proof that Eastern football definitely is on the upgrade, broke a scoreless tie with less than four minutes to play when halfback Bruce Gilmore plunged over from the one-foot line. Quarterback Milt Plum then added the decisive extra point.

Southern California warmed up for its meetings with Stanford by clobbering Washington, 35-7, while Georgia Tech crushed Auburn, 28-7. Johnny Majors led Tennessee to a 24-0 victory over Alabama, and fullback John Herrnstein's three touchdowns helped Michigan down Northwestern, 34-20.

Syracuse Is Running

Syracuse remained in the running for the mythical Eastern championship by edging Army, 7-0; Pittsburgh tallied three times within five minutes during the second quarter to down Duke, 27-14, and North Carolina presented Coach Jim Tatum with a 34-6 victory over his former Maryland team.

Yale took over undisputed possession of first place in the Ivy League with a 25-7 triumph over Cornell, but Princeton looked equally as strong in outlasting Colgate 28-20 in a non-league struggle.

The other major conference leaders: Southeastern, Georgia Tech (3-0); Big Seven, Colorado (3-0); Atlantic Coast South Carolina (3-0); Pacific Coast, UCLA (3-0); Skyline, Wyoming (4-0); Rocky Mountain, Montana State (4-0); Southern, Virginia Tech, West Virginia and George Washington (each 2-0); Big Ten, Michigan State and Iowa (each 2-0); Southwest, Baylor, Texas A&M and Southern Methodist (each 1-0).

Lions, Cardinals Continue Pro Grid Triumphs

Washington's Redskins Down Cleveland, 20-9

By United Press

Who will stop the all-victorious Detroit Lions and Chicago Cardinals, and can Coach Paul Brown halt the plunge of his champion Cleveland Browns?

Those were the big questions in the National Football League today as it finished the first third of its season with fans crowding the stadiums to get the answers. Sunday's six games drew 236,211 spectators.

The "old pros" probably will answer the questions. They took charge Sunday as the pro circuit ditched its electronic devices and returned the signal calling chores to the quarterbacks and defensive captains.

Kicks Winning Goal

Bobby Layne, playing his ninth NFL season, kicked a 17-yard field goal with 17 seconds remaining to keep the Lions first in the Western Division with a 4-0 record. His kick gave the Lions a 20-17 triumph over the San Francisco Forty-Niners before a capacity crowd of 55,662 at Detroit.

Lamar McHan, former Arkansas tailback who is coming into his own in his third campaign with the Cardinals, fired a 23-yard scoring pass to Gern Nagler to touch off a 17-point final quarter for a 20-6 victory over the Eagles at Philadelphia. The Cardinals lead the Eastern Division with the league's only other perfect, 4-0 record.

At Washington, the Redskins won their first 1956 game by downing the Browns, 20-9. Brown and his Brownies have made several notable comebacks in sweeping six straight Eastern Division titles but now are in the toughest spot of their fabulous history. Sharing the cellar with Washington on a 1-3 record.

Blanda Whips Colts

George Blanda, a 29-year old quarterback, did everything but collect tickets at Chicago while helping the Bears (3-1) hold second place in the Western race with a 58-27 victory over the Baltimore Colts. He threw three touchdown passes and kicked seven extra points and a 30-yard field goal.

Charley Conerly, who is 32, threw touchdown passes to Ken MacAfee and Alex Webster and set up Ben Agajanian's 14-yard field goal within three minutes and 29 seconds during the second period at New York to spark the Giants to a 38-10 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers. The Giants (3-1) took undisputed second place in the Eastern race, breaking a tie with the Eagles.

It was the same story in the other game as the Green Bay Packers posted their biggest point total since 1952 while whipping the Los Angeles Rams at Milwaukee, 42-17. Tobin Rote, playing his seventh season as Packer quarterback, threw three touchdown passes and scored himself on a two-yard plunge.

THIS CHEER-FUL GROUP from Southern Illinois University is comprised of the new SIU cheerleaders, who made their debut in the SIU-Eastern Michigan clash at Carbondale on Oct. 20. The newly-elected members are (clockwise), Susie Short (lower left), Belleville; Pat Spurrier, Sesser; Jim Whittenberg, Carbondale; Karen Campee, Lebanon; Mary Edna Jackson, East Alton; Barbara Chamness, Carterville; Sue Threshner, Elmhurst; Paul Jones, Benton; and Alice French, Carbondale. SIU Slips Past Eastern, 14-7, In Heavy Rain

CARBONDALE, Ill.—Driving 65 yards in the final minutes of play, Southern Illinois University slipped past a tough Eastern Michigan squad, 14-7, through a heavy rain here Saturday night.

Carver Shannon, sophomore halfback from Corinth, Miss., again spearheaded SIU's attack, scoring both touchdowns, the last coming on a nine-yard end sweep with only two minutes, 58 seconds remaining in the contest. He also kicked both extra points, giving him 14 points for the night and boosting his five-game season total to 66.

With three conference games remaining, Shannon has 51 points—only 10 points away from a new Interstate season scoring mark. Although held down by the mud, he was the leading ground gainer of the night, picking up 57 of SIU's net rushing total of 94. He also was a key defensive player.

Sharing the spotlight with Shannon were substitute quarterback Dave Wheeler of Chicago and end Robert Batura of Danvers, Mass. Wheeler played most of the game after replacing regular signal-caller Bill Norwood, Centralia, who re-injured his ankle in the first quarter. Wheeler was on the passing end of a 42-yard aerial play that highlighted the final touchdown march. On the receiving end was Batura, who made a leaping over-the-head catch of the slippery ball in the most sensational play of the night.

Eastern Michigan controlled play so much in the first half that the entire time was spent in SIU territory. Eastern, however, could score only once, that touchdown coming on a 12-yard run by fullback John Malone early in the second quarter.

Palmer Announces Regulations for Controlling Public Goose Hunting Areas

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Regulations for operation of the two public goose hunting areas in southern Illinois were announced today by Director Glen D. Palmer of the Department of Conservation, who revealed only minor changes in the handling of permits.

The season for hunting geese in the Southern Zone will be from Nov. 5 to Dec. 15, inclusive, but Director Palmer said opening of the public areas at Horseshoe Lake and Union County will depend upon the presence of a satisfactory number of geese on the refuges and will be announced by department officials several days in advance.

Three daily drawings for pits will be held this year, instead of the usual single drawing, in an effort to accommodate more first-time hunters in the department pits.

The first, for hunters who have not previously used the areas, will be at 6 p. m. (CST) the evening before the hunt.

If all available pits are not claimed by first-time hunters in the evening, the remainder will be put up for drawing again at 5:30 a. m. the day of the hunting. First-time hunters will get their choice again during this second drawing.

In the event all first-time hunters are accommodated and there still are pits available, there will be a third drawing in which repeat hunters may take part.

Director Palmer said no permits will be issued in advance for either area. Hunters must be at the permit stations and take their chances in the public drawing.

The Horseshoe Lake public area is just south of the Promised Land (Spillway) road, approximately 1½ miles north of the Roth railroad station.

The Union County public area is on Route 3, about five miles south of Ware.

Other regulations are the same as last year—limit per hunter is one goose; capacity of pits is two hunters; pits will not be refilled; a daily usage stamp costing $2 required for each hunter; hunting hours: Horseshoe Lake — 7 a. m. to 1 p. m. Union County—Sunrise to noon.

Japanese All-Stars Shell Newcombe, Beat Dodgers, 6-1

TOKYO — Brooklyn Manager Walt Alston admitted today Japanese players are "better than I expected them to be" and that sentiment went double for big, sad Don Newcombe.

Newcombe, who doesn't seem to be able to do anything right since the World Series, was knocked out of the box again Sunday as the Japanese All-Stars defeated the Dodgers, 6-1, before a capacity crowd of 45,000 at Korakuen Stadium.

It marked the fourth straight time since the start of the World Series Newcombe had been knocked out of the box and the first time that a major league team has lost two games on a Japanese tour. Brooklyn also dropped a 5-4 decision to the Tokyo Giants last week.

Ratterman Injury Blow to Browns

WASHINGTON — The Cleveland Browns, wallowing in the worst slump of their 11-year history, suffered an additional blow Sunday when George Ratterman, their No. 1 quarterback, suffered a torn knee cartilage during a 20-9 loss to the Washington Redskins.

Before leaving for Cleveland, Coach Paul Brown said he feared Ratterman might be out for the season and that his football career might also be ended. Ratterman was carried off the field after he was injured in the first quarter and was replaced by Babe Parilli, Cleveland's other quarterback.

The 38 in Burke's hand jumped once, twice. Flame spat from the revolver. A man in front of the police car screamed piercingly, clasped his hands to his chest; blood welled from his mouth, he screamed again and toppled. The people surrounding him were shocked by their concentration on escape; they stared, unbelievably, at this policeman who had shot an innocent man.

"Get off the road! Clear off the road, or I'll shoot again!"

They stared at him, dazed, unbelieving.

The 38 thundered. Screaming. People ran into each other, struggling to get away from the gun, from the police officer who threatened to shoot again. The ranks of the mob thinned.

A man, a big man, cursed at Burke, clawing his way through the crowd, throwing people aside. "I'll kill you for that!" He bulled his way forward, surged to the front of the car.

Burke shot him through the head. The throng scattered. The people fled from this new menace, pouring off the road, across the ditches, into the fields.

Burke reloaded his revolver. The police car headlights shone clearly on the empty concrete. The convoy rolled into Harrington.

Survivors of the bombing stumbled over debris and choked their way through billowing waves of smoke. As the night wore on, the welfare teams achieved a semblance of orderly separation of those people into groups of injured, homeless, and able-bodied. It was imperative that they be provided with shelter. At once; for the cold bit deeply and the wind blew with increasing force. Separated from their parents or unknowingly orphaned, scores of children desperately needed assistance.

By the morning of Nov. 29 the immense rehabilitation task had begun. Evacuated housewives were channeled into emergency hospitals and billets to care for the appalling number of orphaned children. Rural schools instituted new shifts for the children evacuated from the city. The strong were sent to construction work. Carpenters, plumbers, electricians, mechanics, and others with particular skills were in demand.

Wherever possible evacuees moved to the homes of relatives and close friends. Every attempt was made to provide as normal a way of life as could be salvaged from the chaos wrought both physically and emotionally by the bomb.

Life would not be denied this long night. Twenty-two babies were born. Nineteen lived.

Not all welfare operations in the vast jungle of chaos and confusion went off smoothly; there was inconvenience, and harassment, and bitterness and inefficiency. Not all the homeless managed to find their way to warm, emergency quarters.

On the edge of Harrington stood an old frame building, an ancient elementary school which had seen its best days many decades before. The aged boards sagged in a tired warp, yielding before the relentless wind which raced to the beckoning firestorm. Dilapidated shutters banged noisily, and tendrils of icy air slipped by the boarded window frames.

Tonight the relic was a haven, a sheltering oasis in a desert, biting cold and wind. The musty structure had been discovered by a band of desperate survivors, numb with shock, cold, and terror. They tore open the door and stumbled in a weary surge into the building.

The stunned people discovered two dusty iron stoves in the center of the room. A few, clinging to their senses, collected wood and started fires within each stove. The updraft was badly clogged, and much of the smoke failed to rise from the building, but instead filtered in a thickening haze into the single large room.

More and more people fleeing the city sighted the weary structure and the flickering light within, and also sought reprieve from the cold.

All through the night they huddled together. Two hundred and eighty people, reduced by their fright and terror almost to animal state, clustered in pitiful groups for meager warmth, barely whimpering aloud, crying, choking on smoke.

All through this longest of nights they cowered on the floor. They were lost. They had given up.

Heavy traffic forced him from the road to the littered sidewalk. Previously John had moved without interference on the streets; now, a steady stream of vehicles ground their way back and forth along the avenue he traveled to reach the center.

John moved quickly over the rubble, confident that his search would be successfully concluded. He knew that Sue would be there; it was the only remaining place to which she could have been evacuated.

He glanced at his watch. Ten after five! It was almost daylight; he hadn't realized that he had spent nearly eight hours in his search.

Things on the avenue were—well, different. No longer did he encounter the terror-stricken refugees fleeing as a mob from encroaching fires. The majority of vehicles passing him moved into, not away, from the city. There seemed to be organization instead of the former chaos. Men shouted orders, appeared to be working in organized groups.
